DEDICATION

We, the Annual Staff of the Upper Sandusky High School, dedicate this 1962 INDIAN VILLAGE to the progress of the new school, in hopes that the educational opportunities to be found within the new school will enrich the minds and lives of future generations as our minds and lives have been guided and improved by the present knowledgeable surroundings.

F A C

Mr. Howard Smith, Principal, Mr. Eugene Bennett, Superintendent, Mr. Robert Troupo, Board Clerk.

ULTY

I extend my congratulations to the seniors of Upper Sandusky High School. To many of you, this has been a wonderful year, and it has been a genuine pleasure for me to serve as your high school principal. I feel confident that you will recall the many fine days you spent together as a class.

I have been especially impressed with your determination to carry your work to a successful conclusion and the tolerance with which you have adjusted to new classmates, new teachers and new situations.

May your memories be those of days well-spent and may your efforts be suitably rewarded.

Sincerely

Howard Smith

To the custodians of U.S.H.S. the student body wishes to express its appreciation for the extra time they spend to help with the many duties which make our school more pleasant.

BUS DRIVERS

Because of the complexity of getting all the bus drivers together at one time, a picture of the bus drivers was not taken this year. However, this does not mean that these people have been forgotten.

Surely the students will never forget the many bus rides to and from school, and also the many special trips which these drivers have made.

Sponsored by Mrs. Elizabeth Burnett and Mrs. Katherine Tucker, the Hi Teens club this year was open to all high school girls. A candlelight initiation service was conducted by Rev. Robert Dillar.

On December 29, the Hi Teens-Hi Y sponsored their annual dance, "Peppermint Prom."

The two main projects this year were distributing Christmas gifts to the needy children in Wyandot County and supporting a Korean orphan.

The officers and sponsors feel that the cooperation and interest of each of the girls has resulted in another profitable year for Hi Teens.

HI-Y

The purpose of the Hi-Y organization is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian living.

In the fall the club had its annual hayride and conducted an inspiring Thanksgiving assembly.

Spring found the boys sponsoring a "Bundle Day" to acquire clothing for needy families in the Appalachian Mountains.

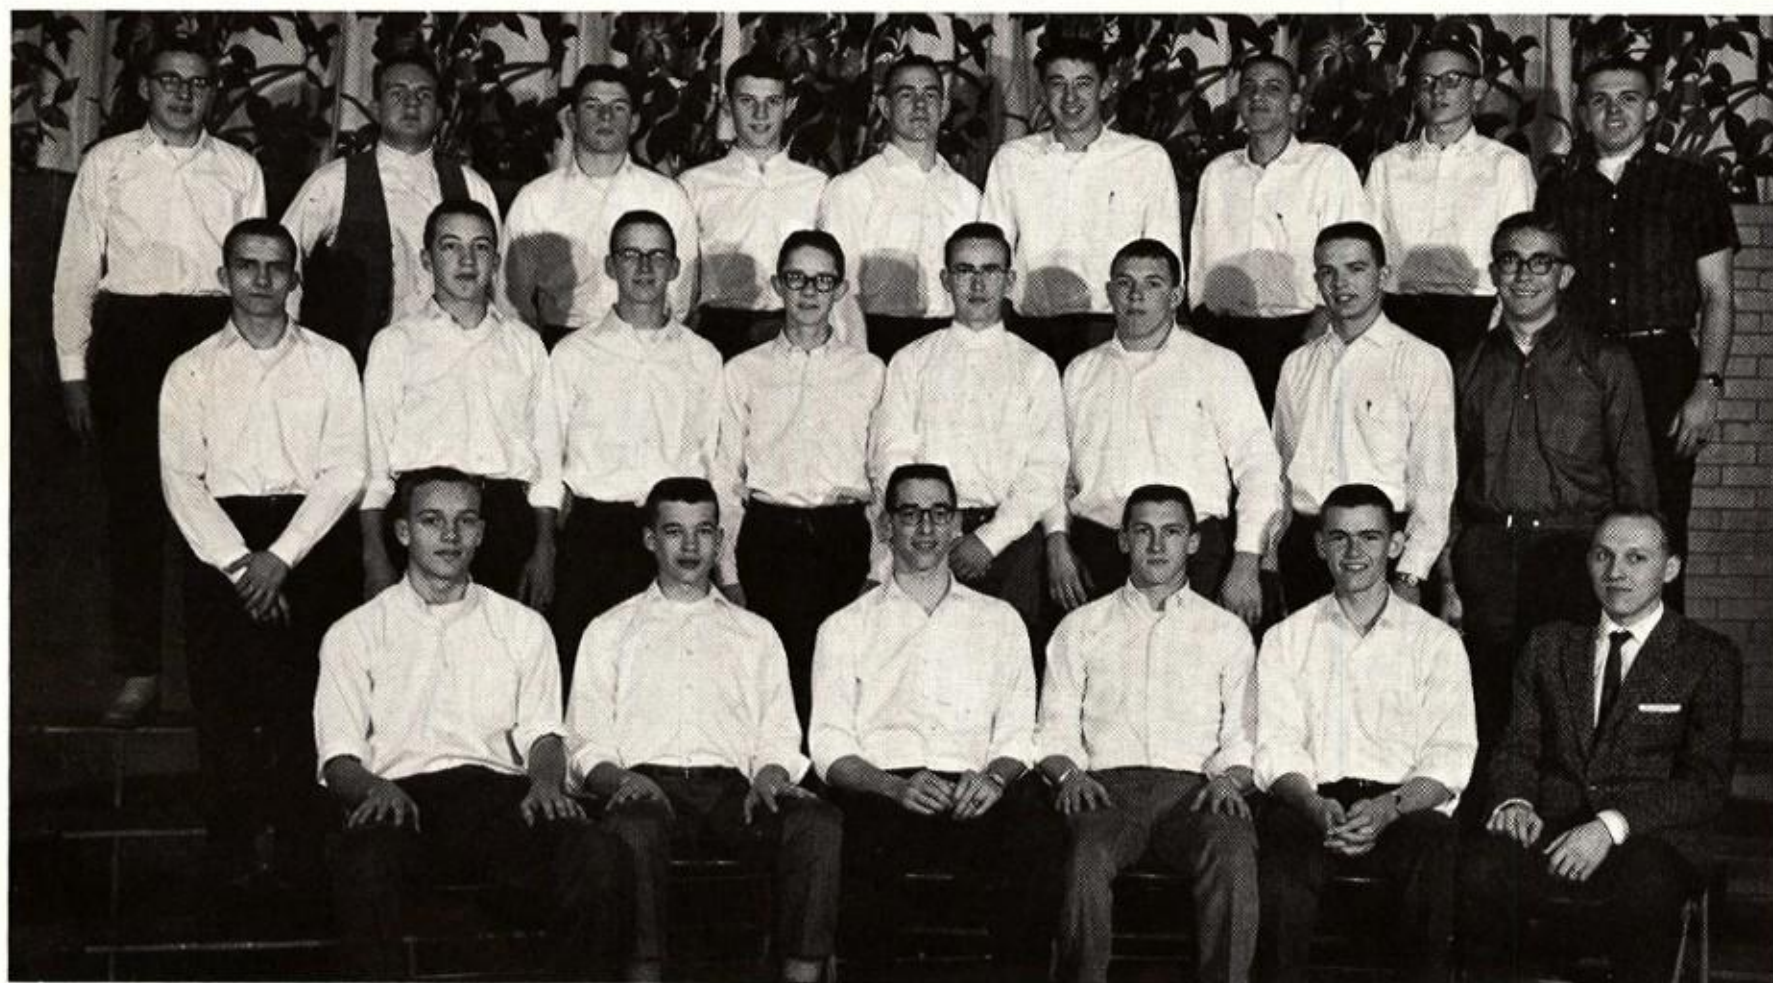

Hi-Y boys and their dates enjoy a beautiful evening of dancing at the "Peppermint Prom."

The members of Tri-Masque are interested in promoting dramatic projects. The club, which is under the direction of Miss Ruth Spies, presented a one-act Christmas play.

In the spring, the club held an Awards Banquet. At this time, trophies were given to the best actress, best supporting actress, and to the best supporting actor.

Janet Zischkau is practicing her act for the Tri-Masque initiation.

Sydne Rome won two trophies this year; one from the Sylvania meet where she received first place and one when she received another first at the district contest at Bowling Green State University. She placed eighth at the state contest which was held at Ohio State University. Sydne gave a humorous speech. "Horton Hatches The Egg."

Rita Kolarik is practicing her speech "Cataracts." In this dramatic speech, Rita portrays four different characters: a little boy, Jimmy; his parents, Johnny and Helen; and his grandfather, who gives his own life to save his grandson.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR SPEECH

The purpose of the Extracurricular Speech Club is to develop poise in speaking before a group, to further develop any speaking talent, to practice self-control and composure, and to give each member individual enjoyment.

Each member memorizes a speech in one of the following categories: Humorous Dramatic, or Oratoric. They are then entered in tournaments at Lakeside, Vermilion, Sylvania, and the district contest at Bowling Green State University.

ORANGE AND BLACK

Mr. Criner, proofreader, Kandee Grossman, editor, and Mr. Hamman, advisor.

Guided by Mr. Ray Hamman, advisor, and Kandee Grossman, editor, the Orange and Black staff worked hard this year to put out 132 editions. The staff spent much time gathering facts and writing articles. Kandee and Mr. Hamman spent many long hours assigning, headlining, measuring, and laying out the paper. Faculty editor Mr. Frederic Criner made numerous last-minute corrections on the copy.

Climaxing each week, the Orange and Black was printed on the last page of the Daily Chief-Union, to better inform and entertain the public about school news.

The editor, advisor, proofreader, and staff deserve much credit and thanks for a difficult, but rewarding job.

The band members, who not only marched with intricate precision, but also presented a variety of clever dance steps, including "Ja-Da" and "Once in Love with Amy," will never forget the pounding of their hearts when they stopped to take a bow and accept the well deserved applause from the fans.

Mr. August Yoder, who directed the band, held a two-week camp at the fair grounds to get the students in shape and teach them some new steps.

Mrs. Forrest Bacon spent many hours looking for the exact word to use in the script to go with the halftime shows which the Ram band presented during football season.

MAJORETTES AND DRUM MAJOR

This year's high stepping majorettes include two seniors, Jackie Kuenzli and Marcia Myers; three juniors, Bonny Kiess, Sharla Heck, and Shirley Davidson; two sophomores, Virginia Book and Sue Householder; and two freshmen, Marsha Barrett and Judy Kuenzli.

Of course, drum major John Reed tops the totem pole.

"Always in Love With Amy" featured the majorettes in one of their most popular performances.

Certainly these "ones in white" contributed much glamour to the 1961-62 Ram Band.

The Pep Band, under the direction of Mr. Stanley Hindmarch, sparked the team as well as the audience at the sports events this year. How could one help but feel the enthusiasm of the band when it played "Hey, Look Me Over," "Across The Field," or the old favorite -- "Ja-Da?"

Then, just the opposite of the high-spirited sound of the Pep Band, the "Stardusters" followed the stars with their smooth, flowing rhythms.

The Dance Band entertained the dancers at various proms and parties in the area.

The band gave a winter and a spring concert.

Most of these students were also members of the Marching Band, which performed at football games and at several local parades.

VARSDITY FOOTBALL TEAM

The 1961-62 varsity football team, emerging from a slow start, triumphed in their last two games of the season, thus ending a nineteen-game losing streak. Throughout the season the Rams displayed the sportsmanship and determination of a team that never gave in. On the gridiron the Orange and Black offense and defense lost nothing, but gained experience for future years.

Total team cooperation and firm leadership accounted for the Rams' successful 10-8 season and 2-1 post-seasonal record.

Sophomore Dave Miller's jump of 20'3 3/4" smashed the 19'11 1/2" broad jump record set by Jim Young in 1959, at the Upper Night Relays. Dave also placed fifth in the district meet at Mansfield in the 880 yd. run with a time of 2:07. Miller ran his best 880, 2:04.3, at the NOL Meet at Tiffin.

In the NOL Meet held on the Lincoln Hills Course, the Rams finished third as a team and, individually, Roger Castanien scored an 83 to be placed on the second team All NOL.

BASEBALL TEAM

After an absence of many years, baseball returned to Upper's spring athletic curriculum. Coached by Fred Koenig and Dick Naher, the Ram sandloters posted a 5-6 record for their first season as a team.

With the bulk of the squad made up of underclassmen, the Ram baseball club promises to be a strong contender in the race for next year's NOL crown.

An important factor to any team, the Ram's bench strength watches for their chance for action.

OUR HEARTS WERE YOUNG AND GAY

Cornelia Skinner (Diane Ross) and Emily Kimbrough (Bonny Kiess), two enterprising girls of nineteen, decide to take a trip to Paris. At the disapproval of Cornelia's pessimistic actor-father (Dennis Schindler) and over-protective mother (Barb Gier), the girls take less expensive ship than their parents. Their neighbors on the trip include two young American boys, Dick Winters (Jerry Soule) and Leo McEvoy (Bob Tilton), and a couple of lively British girls, Harriet St. John (Ann Harman) and Winifred Blaugh (Harriet Rall). Emily and Cornelia, eager to make a good impression, only manage to frustrate the steward (Mike Wolfe). Life is complicated by Cornelia's measles, which they manage to hide from the inspector (Marsha Brents). The girls are enchanted by the "admiral" (Gary McCreary) who so courteously returns their safety pockets (a service their mothers had given them for keeping in possession, but hidden, their valuables, and which they had made several attempts to dispose of!) In a Paris hotel, the maid, Therese (Donna Passet) is delighted to receive such a nice present from the American girls. "Bedbugs!" was the cry of Otis Skinner, when he sees poor Cornelia's face all swollen the day they were to go to dinner with Leo and Dick. To the dismay of the proprietor of the hotel, Mademe Elise (Rita Karg), Otis scrubs the bed down with ammonia. Cornelia is scheduled for the acting lessons from Monsieur De La Crois, (Ray Hamman), a French actor, but receives none when the scheming Monsieur receives no American publicity from Cornelia's father. The window cleaner, (Bill Schoenberger) applauds Cornelia's act. All ends well when Cornelia proves her acting talent, and the girls depart for home.

Emily (Bonnie Kiess), Dick (Jerry Soule) and Leo (Bob Tilton) are scheming to hide Cornelia's (Diane Ross) measles from the Inspector.

Cornelia (Diane Ross) comforts Emily (Bonnie Kiess) who mistakenly thinks that she pushed a man over-board.

The captain (Dan Shields) uncovers the supposedly well-hidden safety pockets given to the girls by their cautious mothers. Looking on are Ann Harman, Harriet Rall, Diane Ross, Bonny Kiess, Jerry Soule, and Dan Shields.

On April 6 the 1962 Seniors presented the production STAGE DOOR, under the direction of Miss Ruth Spies. The play told of the lives of young men and women trying to take their places in the theater of our country. The action centered around a boarding house, known as the Footlights Club in the West Fifties of New York. This large home was owned by Mrs. Orcutt (Judi Wisner), a former belle of the stage, who livened the play with her wit. The characters in the play ranged from a suicide, Kaye Hamilton (Mary Ulrich), to a kindly old M.D., Dr. Randall (Lowell Bear).

The most sincere actress at the home was Terry (Sue Strasser), who found that after three years of hard work, her only means of support was a job at a local department store. David Kinsley (Larry Roszman), who momentarily forgot his higher goal--Hollywood movies--came back to arouse the spirits of this distraught girl, who had been introduced to him by his discovery, Jean Maitland (Jill Hendricks). During this time, Keith (Roger Castanien) completely changed from Terry's boyfriend to one so lured by the glamour of the California screen capital, then he went out to seek his fortune.

In the end David got his girl, and Terry received her long awaited start in the theater.

"STAGE DOOR"

"I'm sorry Mr. Kingsley, but this is against the rules."

The main characters in the production "Stage Door" were: Roger Castanien, Jill Hendricks, Sue Strasser, and Larry Roszman.

"Pixie, eh?"

"Surely you remember me!"

"Everybody look at Miss Maitland now!"

The prom-goers enjoyed the delightful music provided by the Tower Men, a five piece band from Ohio State.

RENDEZVOUS

Potted palms graced the steps leading to the stage which was decorated with white wrought iron tables and chairs. From here they could gaze down upon the dancers in the Romantic setting.

The sophomore hosts and hostesses, dressed in Roman togas, served the guests punch and cookies.

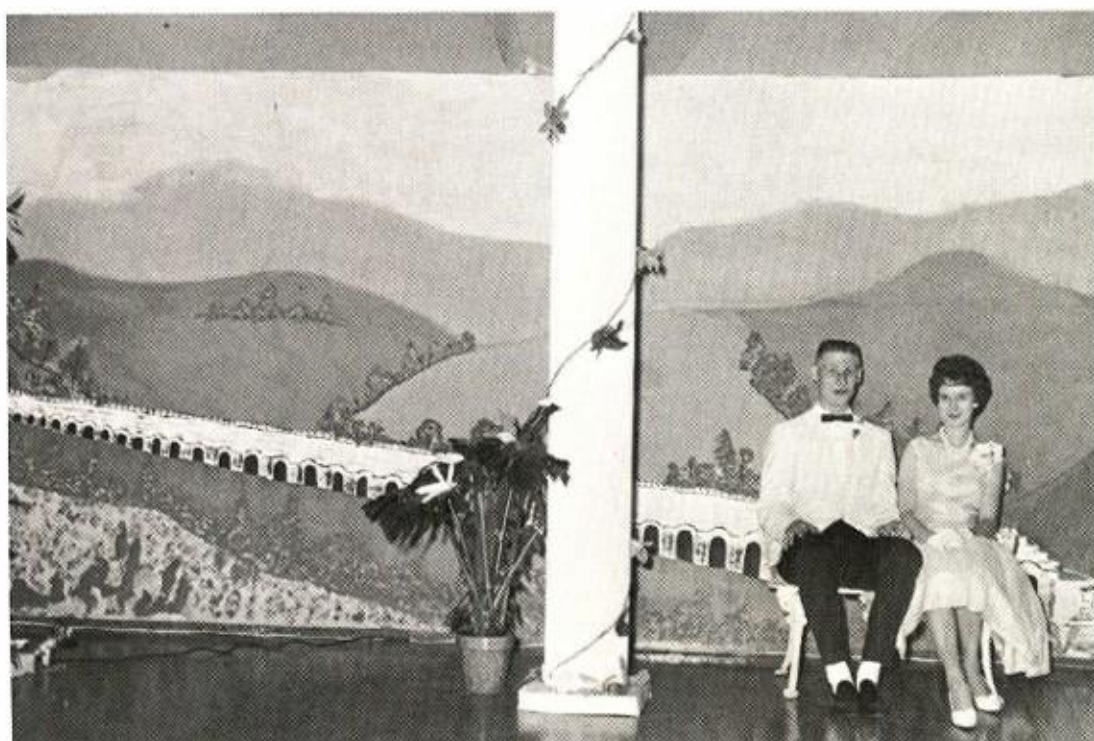

The prom dates and their escorts gazed into the effervescent fountain. Flat rocks and multi-colored flowers surrounded the base.

IN ROME

Junior Gary Kin and his date sat on a love seat in front of one of the colorful murals. Beautiful flowers twined their way upward on the Roman pillar.

Handsome boys in white dinner jackets and their dates in beautiful flowing dresses danced the night away at the eagerly anticipated prom.

GRADUATION

Commencement exercises were held June 4, 1962 for the 111 graduating seniors of the Upper Sandusky High School. This program was the first staged since the consolidation of the enlarged school district.

Dallas Heckathorn, senior class president, introduced Commencement Speaker Dr. Gordon B. Carson, a vice president of Ohio State University. Dr. Carson keyed his address to the space age, selecting the query "Are You Going Into Orbit?" as his theme.

EXERCISES

Heads turned and a silence fell over the audience as the eighty-seventh graduating class solemnly marched into the high school gymnasium to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance." The girls wore traditional white robes and carried long stemmed red roses, while the boys wore customary blue robes.

Roger Castanian smiled as he shook hands with and received his diploma from School Board President Morris Kuenzli. Principal Howard Smith, behind the podium, was announcing the graduates' names and Superintendent C. E. Bennett was assisting Mr. Kuenzli by handing him the diplomas.

Editor-in-Chief Judy Hines and Assistant Editor Nancy Clark are looking over the final layouts of the 1962 Indian Village Annual.

A stylized signature or scribble in purple ink, consisting of several overlapping, elongated loops and lines, positioned in the upper right quadrant of the page. The ink is a deep purple color, and the lines are fluid and interconnected, suggesting a cursive or calligraphic style. The signature is located on a piece of aged, yellowish paper with some minor staining and a faint vertical crease running down the right side.
